FINANCIAL SUMMARY 17

From the outside looking into the Smith Family Wellness Center, it appears our vision has been realized. We have built an unprecedented trauma care model in mental health. Stepping inside, you can see the most important work is only beginning. Our therapists are helping children and families untangle loss and hurt on their journey to healing.

The Smith Family Wellness Center is a critical piece in our front-line work happening across all our campuses and programs: Davidson Farms, Child Placing Agency, KTECH, and the many wraparound services we provide every day.

In 2025, Kids to Love impacted the lives of 8,268 children and families in foster care.
Each program we offer is interconnected, designed to bring children from survival to stability.

Your generosity makes our work possible. It allows us to invest where it matters most: an experienced and compassionate team, evidence-based trauma therapies, and providing homes and families for children who deserve love, safety, and hope.

With your help, our kids can believe in a future where trauma does not define their story.

DAVIDSON FARMS

Our girls who live at Davidson Farms are promised three things when they join our family: Hope, Healing and Home. Our team provides care, guidance and stability. Most “group homes” focus on providing a bed and shelter; at Davidson Farms we create family.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Only 12% of children who age out of foster care will earn a college degree.* Our scholarship program helps them beat that statistic. Since 2005, Kids to Love has awarded more than $1,000,000 in scholarships. Some of the careers our students are studying include law, nursing, and engineering. Kids to Love is committed to continuing education for kids living in and aging out of foster care.

MEETING THE NEEDS

When a child is placed in foster care, we make sure they have what they need. We outfit our children with brand new clothes, shoes, toys and other comfort items. Every item in our inventory is new because that's what our children deserve. The Curtis Cares Center is also the hub for our Christmas for the Kids and More than a Backpack programs.
